

SBIFF 10-10-10 Program Announces Winners

Description

Posted by Larry Gleeson

The Santa Barbara International Film Festival (SBIFF) sponsored by @UGG announced the winners of its annual 10-10-10 (Ten Directors – Ten Writers – Ten Films) Screenwriting and Filmmaking Competition. For the last five months students were paired with mentors from the filmmaking industry and professions culminating in professional-quality produced short films.

Santa Barbara International Film Festival Education Director, Amanda Graves, addresses the audience.

SBIFF Educational Director, Amanda Graves, poignantly stated, “Even with the fires, the evacuations and the mudslide all teams delivered films.” Graves read off all participants including cast and crew members by name including founders the 10-10-10 Competition Co-Founders, Guy Smith and Michael Stinson and thanked Mary Beth Riordan for sponsoring the competition every year since its inception.

Winners of the 2018 Santa Barbara International Film Festival 10-10-10 Screenwriting and Filmmaking Competition

Category

1. #SBIFF
2. Santa Barbara International Film Festival

Tags

1. 10-10-10 Filmmaking and Screenwriting Competition

Date Created

February 2018

Author

hollywoodglee