

Telluride Film Festival 2021 â?? Part I

Description

Posted by Larry Gleeson

Spending my birthday at the 48th Telluride Film Festival proved a remarkably pleasant experience. Receiving a warm hug from a lovely young woman who had dressed herself on Halloween as Marcel the Shell with Shoes On, I engaged Marcel the Shell with Shoes On lead, director, writer/creator Jenny Slate in a polite and deeply poignant conversation on the Telluride Film Festival and her latest work with long-time collaborator Dean Fleischer-Camp.

Marcel the Shell With Shoes On (2021), is a feature-length mockumentary on the scruffy mollusk and life as it is known. Sharp writing and a creative narrative, and spot-on stop-motion animation made Marcel the Shell With Shoes On) an audience favorite. According to news reports negotiations for the filmâ??s distribution and exhibition are ongoing. Slate and Fleischer-Camp are adamant Marcel gets its due. I couldnâ??t agree more. Highly recommended!

Kenneth Branaghâ??s Belfast is an impeccable work based on Branaghâ??s own upbringing in Belfast in the late 1960â??s. The soundtrack features a plethora of Van Morrisonâ??s greatest hits adding joy and optimism to the challenging circumstances a young couple is facing with their young children.. Beautiful actors and a compelling storyline deliver what appears to be an early favorite for the yearâ??s best film.

Sean Baker (Tangerine, and The Florida Project) and A24â??s Red Rocket, featuring Simon Rex, a standout media personality, Brenda Deiss, and Bree Elrod, tells the tail of a Mikey Saber, a washed-up porn star who returns to his small Texas hometown and attempts to make a fresh start. Rex turns in a tour de force performance as Mikey Saber. Bakerâ??s strongest work to date. Not for the faint of heart. Earthy.

Telluride has become known as a launch for numerous award season campaign debuts. And this year was no exception. Stay tuned for Part II.

(Above media by Larry Gleeson/HollywoodGlee featuring the 2021 Telluride Film Festival Opening Night Art Sculpture)

Category

1. Film Festival
2. Telluride
3. Telluride Film Festival

Date Created

October 25, 2021

Author

hollywoodglee