EMERGENCY Gives a Wild Ride at Sundance Film Festival

Description

Posted by Larry Gleeson

Carey Williams has returned to the Sundance Film Festival with an identically titled, feature-length update to his short film, Emergency. And, it is a wild ride. Exploring the human condition through the eyes and world views of his characters, Williams interjects moments of comedic relief, while maintaining a firm grip on the filmâ??s narrative sets the tone early in a masterfully directed â??safe spaceâ?• scene of a deadpan classroom debate on the N-word.

Sabrina Carpenter portrays Maddy in Carey Williamsâ?? Sundance Film Festival US Dramatic Comp

Donald Elise Watkins, who bears a striking resemblance to Daniel Kaluuya, portrays Kunle, a Princeton bound college senior, who winds up on a complicated adventure with his roommates Sean (RJ Cyler)

and Carlos (Sebastian Chacon) when a young party girl, Emma (Maddyâ??s younger sister) portrayed by Maddie Nichols, turns up incapacitated on their floor.

What ensues provides a canvas for playful, hard-hitting social satire that hits the bullseye. Keep an eye out for this director and this filmâ??s release! Four stars.
